Dear Parents and Carers

As we reach the end of another half-term, please may I thank you once again for your on-going support. I feel that we have had a very successful half-term and have been delighted to note that students have, for the most part, continued to embrace their studies.

We all expect the very highest standards in our school and I wonder if you could support me in the following areas for next half-term:

Attendance

Attendance to school can always take a knock during the winter months. This year so far, there are a number of students who appear to have had quite a significant amount of time off school. Of course, your child must be kept at home to be looked after if they are poorly but please do consider whether a minor cough or cold warrants a day off school. Naturally, I shall leave this up to you to judge but please do not be offended if I write to offer support with your child's attendance in the next half-term.

Uniform

Our students continue to look very smart and professional in their uniforms. I am so very proud of them and continue to get lots of comments from visitors and members of the public about how wonderful our students look. Thank you once again for your support. Just three areas to tighten up on:

Earrings – a maximum of one stud per ear is permitted.

Nail varnish /adornments – not permitted.

If worn, make –up should be barely there, subtle and natural.

Thank you so much for all that you continue to do. Please remember that I run a parent and carer clinic every Monday after school should you wish to have an appointment to see me. Please contact Jackie Hampton hamptonj@jfcs.org.uk should you wish to make use of this.

With my very best wishes for half-term.

Yours sincerely
